Maria M. Glowaski, DVM, DACVAA

Diplomate of the American College of Veterinary Anesthesia and Analgesia

Dr. Maria Glowaski is a board-certified veterinary anesthesiologist™. She received her Doctor of Veterinary Medicine from Tufts University, Cummings School of Veterinary Medicine then completed an internship in Emergency Medicine/Critical Care and Anesthesia followed by a residency in veterinary anesthesia at Cornell University College of Veterinary Medicine. She became board-certified in veterinary anesthesia in 2000.

She is a Diplomate of the American College of Veterinary Anesthesia and Analgesia (ACVAA) and has 25+ years of experience in veterinary anesthesiology. She has published numerous articles in peer-reviewed journals, authored multiple book chapters, co-authored a veterinary anesthesia textbook and gives lectures both nationally and internationally.

Following her residency at Cornell, she returned to Tufts to become a faculty member and began her career in academia. After several years enduring the cold Northeast, she was offered and accepted a faculty position at the University of California Davis School of Veterinary Medicine. Wishing to move closer to her family in her home state of New Jersey, she accepted a faculty position at The Ohio State University College of Veterinary Medicine. Eventually a private practice position in anesthesia became available in New Jersey and she left academia.

AMERICAN COLLEGE OF VETERINARY ANESTHESIA AND ANALGESIA

Before joining Dallas Veterinary Dentistry and Oral Surgery, she owned and operated her own veterinary anesthesia consulting company. Leaving the winters of New Jersey to relocate to the great state of Texas and join the phenomenal team at DVDOS has been the best decision of her career!

In her free time, Dr. Glow is outdoors as much as possible training her black American Labrador, Zenna, for field trials. She has also trained her for service dog work and visits hospitals and senior care facilities. She enjoys many outdoor activities including long distance running, hiking and swimming. When compelled to be indoors, she can be found hosting extravagant dinner parties for friends while being serenaded by her three utterly spoiled Siamese cats; Sterling, Sherman and Simon.
